SEA PINES

Long known for its pristine beaches and unrivaled golf, Hilton Head Island's full-time population is growing as past vacationers choose to call the picturesque island home.

HISTORIC BLUFFTON

Just west of the island is Bluffton, a riverside town draped in equal amounts Spanish moss and Lowcountry tradition that gracefully balances its growing popularity with small-town charm.

Located on the southernmost end of the South Carolina coast, Hilton Head Island and the town of Bluffton are 20 miles north of Savannah, Georgia, and 95 miles south of Charleston, SC.

The area is easily accessible by car and air.

Traveling To and From

By air: The Savannah-Hilton Head International Airport (SAV), is a 45 to 60-minute drive from the area, and taxis and rental cars are readily available. Also, Hilton Head Island Airport offers flights via American Airlines, however, the airport is primarily used for private aviation.

By car: Highway 278 provides a straight and easy route between Hilton Head Island-Bluffton and I-95. The drive takes approximately 15 minutes (from Bluffton) to 45 minutes (from the island).

Arts and Entertainment

Hilton Head's Arts Center of Coastal Carolina, a 349-seat theater, hosts visiting performers and artists throughout the year, as well as full-scale productions of Broadway and theater classics. The Hilton Head Symphony Orchestra is also a popular evening-out for visitors and residents alike with 70 musicians and world renowned soloists appearing at many concerts.

Hilton Head and Bluffton are also home to host of local art museums, galleries, dance companies, and community-based theater groups.

When it comes to festivals and special events, Hilton Head and Bluffton rival any metropolitan area. From the well-known events like the Hilton Head Island Wine & Food Festival and Concourse d'Elegance, to long-time favorites like the Gullah Festival and Bluffton Arts & Seafood Festival, every month offers a variety of reasons to get out and enjoy the community.

Dining

Finding new dining options is never a problem for area residents, thanks to the more than 200 restaurants packed onto the island and a quickly growing number of options in and around Old Town Bluffton. From fresh seafood and authentic Italian, to new Southern and farm-to-table, there are choices to fit any palate, occasion or budget.

Shopping

High-end boutique shopping is a hallmark of island life. The recent addition of the Shelter Cove Towne Centre has brought even more choices for clothing, jewelry and beyond. Just off the island in Bluffton, the Tanger Outlets offer a variety of brand-name and designer outlet stores. Bluffton also offers most common big-box stores and national retailers.

Golf

Thanks to an annual PGA tour stop (RBC Heritage) and over 25 championship courses, Hilton Head Island is internationally known as a golf destination. With names like Fazio, Nicklaus, Palmer, Love and Dye, the list of legends who have left their footprint on the island is a veritable Who's Who list of course design.

The area also offers a good variety, from private club and bucket list experiences like Harbour Town Golf Links, to resort and public courses, golf is an oft-played and much-loved sport among island residents.

Healthcare

The area offers a range of health care providers, specialists and hospitals, which continues to grow along with the area's population. On the island, Hilton Head Hospital offers emergency, surgical and cardiac services as does Coastal Carolina Hospital near Bluffton.

About 30 miles north, Beaufort Memorial Hospital offers additional specialty care. In addition, Savannah to the south and Charleston to the north offer major healthcare facilities.

Visitors and residents alike enjoy a relaxed coastal lifestyle where nature has been carefully preserved. Local ordinances prohibit bright street lights, tall buildings and brightly colored buildings to preserve the beauty of the night sky, the natural look of the island and habitats for sea turtles, dolphins and giant oak trees. Golfing, tennis, biking and water sports are a way of life thanks to easy access to the Atlantic Ocean, May River and dozens of creeks, lagoons and other waterways.

A dirt road winds through a dense forest of large, moss-covered trees in the Lowcountry. The trees are thick with Spanish moss, and the ground is covered in fallen leaves. The scene is peaceful and scenic.
